Fortunate possessors of real estate converted it into cash and put the proceeds, in whole or in part, at the disposal of the apostles for the relief of their fellow-believers. One of the most conspicuous examples of this voluntary surrender of property was that of him "Son of Consolation," in recognition of the relief his generosity afforded. The root of Ananias's sin was envy. He wanted to outshine Joses. He wanted a still highersounding title. He would relegate that Cyprian to the rear. But there was a dash of cupidity with his envy. He was not willing to pay the full price. He would lie to avoid it. There would be room for pity had Ananias been overtaken by sudden temptation, and fallen after some show of resistance. But the act was deliberate, with malice afcrethought. seems out of proportion to the offense. It makes a shocking page in the New Testament. What shall we say to it? Why, its very exceptional character serves to accentuate the gen-eral and persistent forbearance of God. The Lord's rule is to be merciful and gracious. If all lying hypocrites were smitten dead, the slain of the Lord would be counted by regiments. That they are not so smitten illustrates the long-sufering patience of God. The punishment did not exceed the bounds of desert. Yet its awful severity and the scenic manner of its infliction show that it was designed to be exemplary. This tragic picture was ung on the wall of the early church as a powerful deterrent from hypocrisy. It was a divine nsistence upon purity of notive in religious service. It was illustrative of the strength God's displeasure at insincerity. It was educative. It had the desired effect. Twice it is recorded, "Great fear came upon all that heard these things." is death." 2. Hypocrisy, envy, rivalry, are the dead flies that make the cintment of much of the current benevolences to send forth a stinking savor. 3. Sincerity is indispensable. The eye must be ingle, the motive pure. The would-be benevolent man must not cherish the secret and unworthy hope that his apparently disinterested deed will redound to his own advantage. Like his Master, he is not to be ministered unto, but to minister and give. 4. The Bible abounds in punitive judgments. There are so many object lessons to the race. They must needs be striking to duly arrest attention. In the long run they are really acts of mercy. Where one is consumed many are saved by the deterrent power of exemplary punishment. Communism finds no support in the Bible. The common purse was an expedient to meet a passing emergency. Later, we find Paul taking free-will offerings abroad for the poor among the

A passenger conductor said if the passenger officials would issue an order of that purport there is not conductor who would not, to the best of his abaility, carry out his instructions. "There is none," said he, "who knows better than we to what abuse the mileage book

In a late issue of the serials the passenger department of the New York Central publishes is an interesting article showing the | popular. development of this great trunk line which is interesting history. On Sept. 12, 1831, the Albany & Schenectady, chartered in 1826 as the Mohawk & Hudson, was opened for traffic and was the first railroad conname was changed to the Albany & Schenectady. In 1853 the late ex-Senator Humfrom Wyoming county; as chairman of the committee on railroads, introduced a bill to consolidate the nine small lines which ultimately formed the marvelous four-track road, the world-famed New York Central. In 1869 the company was consolidated with the Hudson River, and the incomparable trunk line from New York to Buffalo, by way of the Hudson river and Albany, was wisely placed under one management. In hundred passengers. During 1896 the pres-

The passenger equipment of this greatest of all railroads, here or elsewhere, consists of nearly 800 first class passenger cars, over 100 composite cars, twelve dining cars, 100 second class immigrant cars, 300 baggage and express cars, and 325 passenger locomotives. This is a total equipment without a parallel in the country, and its cost, represented in dollars, would run into many mil-Joses, a Levite of Cyprus. The apostles called lions. When it is considered that the past year has been especially unsatisfactory from a financial standpoint with railroads all over the world, the fact of the Central having a surplus of $44,000, after paying dividends during the past twelve months, amply demonstrates that the management is not only up to date, but also that the property as a medium of travel is not excelled by any other railway in the world.

Ten-Cent Rate for Grain.

The general opinion among the traffic officials of the Eastern roads is that in the near future a regular tariff will be issued which will provide for the transportation | to eighty cars. of grain between Chicago and the Atlantic seaboard for 10 cents. Nearly all of the reads admit that they have found it necessary to make this rate in order to proteet their traffic against the Southern shipping ports. They argue that the rate might as well be made openly on a published tariff as made openly in defiance of a 15-cent tariff. They are looking for the board of managers of the Joint Traffic Association to make the 10-cent rate at almost any time and they will for the most part continue to carry the grain for 10 cents no matter whether the board of managers make the rate or not. Future of the Monon and Vandalia. A railroad attorney who is well informed as to railroad matters generally said yesterday that, despite all the speculation as to who would in future own the Monon and the Vandalia lines, when the time came to sell the roads at foreclosure sale it would be found that the Samuel Thomas syndicate, which has for years owned the L., N. A. & C., would have the wherewith in bonds and cash to purchase the road, and that Ananias, grace of the Lord; Sapphira, heauti- | the Pennsylvania Company would be equally well prepared to buy the Vandalia line. To the Editor of the Indianapolis Journal: Trusting to your forbearance and the indulgence of your army of intelligent patrons, permit me to reply to an article in your issue of the 2d, signed "Alfred Clark," with reference to the interchangeable fivethousand-mile ticket. The gentleman need have no difficulty in locating the association of which he pleads ignorance, as it has been in existence nearly as long as his extended and honorable career as a commercial traveler. With no attempt at priority, the writer was in the harness twenty-five years as a commercial traveler without a break, and, safe to say, traveled more miles during that time than my brother knight of the grip will cover should he add thirty years more to his string, and, without being egotistical, believe I have devoted more time and money to secure concessions for my fellow-commercial trayelers than any other commercial traveler in the United States. Interchangeable mileage has been the goal of the great majority of commercial travelers and business men's ambition for years, and I pride myself with being ever foremost in its advocacy, believing it practicable, just and equitable to all parties in interest. The writer has never been in the employ of any railroad company, nor its accessories, but, on the contrary, at all times, a stanch, uncompromising, unpurchasable advocate of commercial travelers's rights. consistent in the nature of demands made. respecting equally the rights of others. No reference is made in my communication to Mr. McCormick of any commercial traveler being in the employ of railroad corporations, directly or indirectly, and, if the gentleman is the commercial traveler claimed for himself, he has had more than $100 invested in mileage tickets, for the average traveling man carried from five to twenty mileage tickets under the old system, to profit by the reduced rate at which m'leage tickets were sold. No one claims the present five-thousand-mile interchangeable ticket is perfect, but it is claimed to be a step in the right direction and exactbaseball club is, very well repays for the ly in line with demands made by commercial travelers, and if the gentleman and his friends will devote the same time and energies toward the correction of existing games. As an economical measure the freight car repair work of the West Shore and the New York Central is to be concentrated at the shops in Depew, and the passenger equipment repairs will be made at the shops in Albany.

The executive committee of the Columbus, Sandusky & Hocking Railroad has ratified the agreement by the Ohio coal reads in the matter of the percentages recently allotted at the meeting of the various lines in New York. With the taking effect of the spring and summer schedule the Big Four will restore its fast train day service between St. Louis and Indianapolis, formerly known as the Southwestern limited, east bound, which was a very popular train. The railway men's associations take strong grounds against Congress extending the time for the railways to equip their cars with automatic couplers, they holding that the roads have had ample time to carry out the provisions of the law. The Pennsylvania Railroad Company has announced that on April 1 it will reduce the rates on bituminous coal 28 cents per ton from the mines to tidewater, Philadelphia, and 20 cents on all rail shipments to East Albary, Rotterdam Junction and other points where connection is made with

New England roads. W. N. Perrine, secretary of the railroad branch of the Young Men's Christian Association at Buffalo, one of the most flourishing railroad branches in the country. died on Sunday, and the members of the association have passed resolutions paying tribute to his memory. He had held the position of secretary for some years. R. B. F. Peirce has just completed his second year as receiver of the Toledo, St.

Louis & Kansas City, and from the time he took hold of the property it has shown a steady increase in business. The most remarkable development has been in its coal traffic. Formerly but fifteen to twenty cars were loaded at mines on the road daily; this business has gone to seventy A car ferry system has been organized at Detroit to operate between that city and Toledo. The claim is made for it that it will carry coal and other freight from Toledo to Detroit and turn it over to the rail-reads in that city in shorter time than can be made by the all-rail lines. Contracts have been let for the construction of two barges which will be able to carry twentyeight cars on each trip. The Atchinson road has effected a full settlement for the Atlantic & Pacific bonds and has issued its own bonds and stock in place of the bonds it has acquired. Within the last week the Atchinson secured the last three Sonore bonds outstanding, which completes the purchases of all the bonds outstanding previous to the first reorganization, except bonds of the Chicago extension to the extent of $600,000. Some surprise has been expressed that the locomotives on the Pensylvania line were not draped in memory of the dead president. It has been an established rule for many years not to drape locomotives, private cars or cabooses on such occasions, and seldom are any of the offices draped in respect to a decreased official. Never before have the offices been so generally draped as since the death of the late President Roberts.

Charles Counselmen, who controls the large elevator of the Pennsylvania lines at Chicago, has leased the large elevater of the Pennsylvania at Jersey City, which will be a serious blow to the New York Lighterage Company, which now collects from most of the roads 3 cents per one hundred pounds. It will give the Pennsylvania advantages similar to those that the Erie has obtained of late through its electric service at Jersey City, and bids fair to draw much of the grain traffic to New York for export. E. C. Kinney, trainmaster of the Bee-line division of the Big Four, in commenting on the recent fast run from St. Louis to Cleveland, said there was hardly a day that there were not some very fast runs made on the Big Four lines, which was much in contrast with the condition a few years ago, when to get trains over the road on time was a rare occurrence; now, not to do so is equally rare. If a train is late in reaching its destination General Superintendent Van Winkle demands a sufficient reason for the delay. Harry C. McGuire, who represents the passenger department of the Big Four and the Chesapeake & Ohio in the Southwest, with headquarters in Dallas, Tex., was in the city yesterday. He came through with two carloads of United States prisoners, in charge of eight deputy United States marshals, en route from the Indian Territory to Columbus, O. The train was run as a special from St. Louis to Columbus over the Big Four. The run from Mattoon to Indianapolis, 129 miles, was made in 149 minutes, two stops for water to be deducted. Judge Lurton, of the Court of Appeals of Ohio, has handed down his decision in a suit where the preferred stockholders of the Toledo, St. Louis & Kansas City asked to become parties to the reorganization, and it is to the effect that the preferred stock is not a creditor of the company, but stockholders should have a voice in the reorganization, and the preferred stockholders now become parties to the suit, which it is believed will materially delay the perfection of the reorganization plan, as it may open up almost endless litigation. Ex-President Harrison represented the preferred stockholders in the suit.

The board of managers of the Joint Traffic Association have confirmed action by the trunk line passenger committee fixing the immigrant rate from New York to Pittsburg after March at $8. The following recommendation of the trunk lin passenger committee has been approved by the managers. That with a view to meeting outside competition, interested lines be authorized to name rate of one first-class fare per capita for the round trip, from Washington, D. C., to New Orleans, and Mobile, Ala., and return, ac count of Mardi Gras. Tickets of ironclad signature form, limited to continuous passage in each direction, to be used, to be sold Feb. 26-March 1, for return to Washington within fifteen days, exclusive of date An impression prevails that the president of the Pennsylvania lines east of Pittsburg is president of the lines west of Pittsburg; this is not the case. The president of the lines east of Pittsburg is president of the Pennsylvania Company, which operates the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago, and of the Pittsburg, Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis lines, and the Indianapolis & Vincennes, also operated by the Pennsylvania Company; but James Me Crea is president of the Grand Rapids Indiana, the Vandalia, the Cleveland & A.
